Jessie felt God calling her into Women Ministry several years ago at a “Women of Faith” event and for the past ten years she has followed His call on her life and not looked back. Today, she is enjoying the fruit of her obedience to God. Her passion is to see women get into the Word of God and have it make a difference in their lives. Her ministry challenges women to make God a priority and inspires them to move into a whole-hearted lifestyle, one devoted fully to God.
